

The GRP Grate and Water Collection Basin

The GRP grate and water collection basin efficiently collect wastewater generated during shower use. The grate is made from durable GRP material, while the water collection basin can be manufactured from galvanized steel or stainless steel. This product provides an important solution for safely directing and managing water.

